

“It’s Not Too Late to Protect Your Prostate.... Even If You’ve Already Experienced Symptoms!”

If you’re afraid of developing prostate problems, it’s not surprising.

After all, 66 percent of 60-year-old men experience prostate problems. Ninety percent of 80 year olds have them.

And prostate cancer is the second leading cause of male cancer deaths in the United States.

But here’s the thing. Prostate problems aren’t inevitable. And even if you’re already experiencing early symptoms such as waking up frequently in the night to visit the bathroom, the problems can be reversed.

Ease the Squeeze

As the prostate enlarges, it can cause having to squeeze out a dribbling weak stream or pain and burning during urination. You may also experience an urge to urinate more often and a sudden urge to go. Frequent urination can interrupt sleep and cause sexual dysfunction.

The good news is awkward and embarrassing symptoms can be reduced or avoided as can the death toll through prevention. Whether you currently have symptoms or not, you can avoid painful invasive surgery by protecting your prostate.
